Treat Me Well Dudley

Dudley Voices for Choice are supporting the Mencap campaign Treat me well. In Dudley we want to make sure every person with a learning disability has good treatment. This means things like being talked to in a way you can understand. It also means having reasonable adjustments like easy read information and more time with a health care worker. There is good work happening in Dudley hospitals but nobody knows about it.

Shine Festival 2018

Shine Festival 2018 will be happening during learning disability awareness week which begins Monday 18th June.

Keep looking at the DVC facebook and twitter pages for more information coming soon.

Meet the team.

I am Samantha Reeves. I used to go to the DVC youth group. I now volunteer at DVC in the office one day a week. I am also an expert by experience and train students and medical staff. I tell people what it is like to live with a learning disability.

Do you know what is happening in Dudley?

How do you find out about what happens in your community, hospitals, GPs, or where to have fun?

Please let us know on our facebook page or email us at the address on the back of the newsletter.

Disability Football

Dudley Voices for Choice talked to Paul Glover, from West Bromwich Albion. We talked about sports and football for people with disabilities and how to get involved. They run all age sessions in Dudley.

For more information contact Paul on paul.glover@albionfoundation.co.uk

Mary Stevens Hospice

Mary Stevens Hospice have become a Safe Place. They got in touch with us to see how they can make sure this service meet the needs of people with learning disabilities. They have got two learning disability champions Gemma Allen and Rachel Hayward.
